

Wading through the book of Revelations can be rather daunting for any Bible student due to the book's use of symbolism, types, and shadows in expressing the unfolding of events that were prophesied to occur at the end of this age.

The author of this booklet was also daunted in trying to unravel the mysteries, and like so many others who have endeavored to make sense of it – has often left much of it in the “too hard basket” ready to be revealed when the time comes. Well that time is now upon us. We are now living in what the Bible has termed “the end times.”

It is not hard to see that wickedness has pervaded governments, organizations, peoples, families (and even some churches) throughout the entire world. With an unprecedented level of corruption and coercion, people of influence in “high places” have manipulated many into seeing things from a defeatist perspective - this can lead to depression and utter hopelessness.

The author of this booklet encourages the reader to see end times events from an entirely different perspective – from God's perspective!

God is about to judge the Devil and his angels, the world, and all those who do wickedly. It is a time for the saints to look up and rejoice for our “redemption draws nigh” – it is not the “rapture” that we are to be looking so eagerly towards, but we are to look in faith for the works of God to culminate in the perfecting of the Bride of Christ – His Church. It is time for the Bride to make herself ready.

The author has carefully prepared a time chart showing the sequence of events from the time of the forming up of the One World Order (which is to govern the world through Satan, the Antichrist, and the False Prophet) through to the culmination of all things in Christ, who shall reign with His saints forever and ever in His glorious kingdom.

Jehovah is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and He knows those who trust in Him. Nahum 1:7
